How do I unlink an account from my login account?

When logged into the Player Portal, you can unlink accounts that are no longer required to be linked (such as children who have their own email address) by:

• Go to Link or unlink records via your name dropdown in the header

- · Linked participants are displayed for your account
- · Select Unlink on a linked account to unlink it. You can unlink accounts at any time.

You can unlink an account in two ways:

- a. Unlink and provide a NEW email address for that account, so that it can be managed separately from yours.
- b. Unlink and leave the account in the system as is. This allows you to re-link the account if the email address on the account remains the same as yours.

	ık Participant
The	re are two options when unlinking an account:
•	Unlink this person's record from your account and allow them to establish their own Login account, seperate from yours, using a new email address.
	By providing a new email address for this record, you will allow this person to establish their own Login using the email address.
	Please ensure you provide the correct new email address as we will use this to send a request to establish their clogin account.
	New email address for Participant :
	Confirm
	Confirm
	Confirm
0	Unlink this person's record from your account and keep the email address for this person as is.
	Unlink this person's record from your account and keep the email address for this person as is.
	Unlink this person's record from your account and keep the email address for this person as is. You will be anle to re-link this person to your account again if you choose, provided the person retains your emails.
	Unlink this person's record from your account and keep the email address for this person as is. You will be anle to re-link this person to your account again if you choose, provided the person retains your emaddress on their profile.